Exercise on Self - realization

Every individual must have a clear objective for being a successful entrepreneur. Every successful entrepreneur knows where do they stand and what are all their positives and negatives. This enables them to identify and bridge the gap between their present and their goals. Creativity is one of the major factors that make an entrepreneur to be unique from others.

All these assessments can be made through self – realization exercise. This exercise asks the students to describe their dream in phrases and a creative diagram. This makes the students to realize whether they do have measurable and achievable goals or not along with their creativity. Later the students are asked to analyze their Strength, Weakness, Opportunities, Threat (SWOT analysis) and to identify the gap between their present and goal along with the opportunities around them.

At the end of the exercise the students can assess themselves where do they stand in entrepreneurial track by analyzing the following factors:

- Measurable and achievable goal
- Creativity
- SWOT analysis
- Gap identification
- Opportunity realization

Note: This exercise was framed by referring the online course by Wadhwani foundation

This activity helps in attaining the following CO – PO mapping:
